The Architecture of Grace

Anchor Charts — Free Preview

A free preview of the Visual Anchor Charts from Book One: The Foundation — three sample classroom display charts for Grades K-2, drawn directly from the curriculum.

The full supplement includes fourteen charts across four units.

My Identity Web

Unit 1 · Lesson 1 · Display model — build it with the class

Each branch is a different part of who you are. Build one branch at a time.

Post it before you hand out the worksheet — and keep it up all year.

Kind Coach vs. Grumpy Gus

Unit 1 · Lesson 4 · Permanent anchor — reference every lesson

Two voices talk inside us. One attacks who you are. One coaches what you do.

✕ GRUMPY GUS

ATTACKS YOUR IDENTITY

"You ARE bad."

BIG & CATASTROPHIC

"You ALWAYS mess up."

"You'll NEVER get it right."

POINTS TOWARD

Hiding & shame

✓ KIND COACH

TALKS ABOUT YOUR BEHAVIOR

"Oops — try again."

SPECIFIC · HONEST · KIND

"What can I learn?"

"What is one next step?"

POINTS TOWARD

Repair & growth

THE KIND COACH ASKS THREE QUESTIONS

1

What happened?

2

What can I learn?

3

What is one next step?

Color-code red and green when you build it with the class. Post it permanently — reference it every lesson, all year.

Three Parts of Being Kind to Yourself

Unit 2 · Lesson 4 · Post before the worksheet

What would you say to a friend who felt this way? Say it to yourself instead.

1

PART ONE

SELF-KINDNESS

“I care about you.”

Speak to yourself with care, not cruelty — like you would talk to a good friend.

2

PART TWO

COMMON HUMANITY

“Everyone goes through hard things.”

You are not alone. Everyone makes mistakes. Everyone hurts sometimes.

3

PART THREE

MINDFULNESS

“I notice I am feeling ____.”

See the feeling clearly. Don't push it away — but don't drown in it either.

Adapted from Dr. Kristin Neff's Self-Compassion framework

Post it before the worksheet — and come back to it in every Unit 2 lesson.
