

SCHOOL OF LIFE FOUNDATION

The Architecture of Grace

Anchor Charts — Book 1 · The Foundation

The complete set of classroom display charts for Grades K-2 — big, friendly, and built with the class beside Sammy. Print on cardstock or 11×17 and post all year. Fourteen posters carrying the program's four ideas in their very first form: identity, self-compassion, forgiveness, and grace.

What's in This Pack

Fourteen display posters, transcribed directly from the curriculum and designed for young readers — large faces, few words, and warm color. Each is built with the class on the day its lesson indicates, then kept posted as the room's shared language for the year.

Who Am I?	IDENTITY	Being Kind to Myself	SELF-COMPASSION
My Feelings Are Friends	WELL-BEING	When It's Hard to Forgive Yourself	FORGIVENESS
Everyone Makes Mistakes	SELF-COMPASSION	Forgiving Is Not the Same as Trusting	FORGIVENESS
My Inside Voice	SELF-COMPASSION	Forgiveness Takes Time	FORGIVENESS
Oops vs. I Am Bad	SELF-COMPASSION	My Story Is Not the Whole Me	IDENTITY
What Is Forgiveness, Really?	FORGIVENESS	What Does Grace Look Like?	GRACE
Saying Sorry and Meaning It	REPAIR	Giving the Benefit of the Doubt	GRACE

Who Am I?

IDENTITY

My Identity Web

Every web is valid. Every answer is right.

My Feelings Are Friends

All feelings are messengers

WELL-BEING

Happy

Sad

Angry

Scared

Proud

Worried

Lonely

All feelings are okay. They tell us something.

Everyone Makes Mistakes

SELF-COMPASSION

An Oops is something you DID

“I made a mistake. But I am still ME. I am not bad — I just had an Oops!”

An Oops is something you did. It is never who you are.

My Inside Voice

Kind Coach or Grumpy Gus?

SELF-COMPASSION

GRUMPY GUS

- “I always mess up.”
- “I can’t do this.”
- Loud — but not true

KIND COACH

- “I made a mistake — I can try again.”
- “This is hard. I can keep going.”
- Honest — and kind

We can always flip Grumpy Gus into the Kind Coach: What happened? · What can I learn? · What is one next step?

Oops vs. I Am Bad

They are not the same

SELF-COMPASSION

OOPS

What I DID

One moment

Can be fixed

Sounds like: "I made a bad CHOICE."

I AM BAD ⚠

Who I AM

Never true

Sounds like: "I am a bad PERSON."

An Oops is something you did. It is never who you are.

What Is Forgiveness, Really?

The Heavy Backpack

FORGIVENESS

MYTH Forgiveness means forgetting.

You can remember and still let go.

MYTH Forgiveness means it was okay.

You can say “that was wrong” AND still let go.

MYTH Forgiveness is weakness.

It takes more courage than holding on.

MYTH You must feel ready first.

Forgiveness is a CHOICE, not a feeling.

Forgiveness sets down the heavy backpack — for YOU.

Saying Sorry and Meaning It

The Three Parts of a Real Sorry

REPAIR

1

Name what I DID

Honestly. The real word for the real thing — “I bumped into you.”

2

Name the HURT

I see how it made you feel.

3

Name the CHANGE

A real promise: “Next time I will...” This is the part that says I mean it.

All three parts matter. Without them, sorry is a start — not a finish.

Being Kind to Myself

Three ways to be a friend to me

SELF-COMPASSION

1

Self-Kindness

"I care about you. This is hard. You are doing your best."

2

Common Humanity

Everyone makes mistakes. Everyone hurts sometimes. You are NOT alone.
You are human.

3

Mindfulness

Notice the feeling: "I am feeling sad right now." Naming it makes it smaller.

Talk to yourself the way you would talk to a good friend.

When It's Hard to Forgive Yourself

FORGIVENESS

Self-forgiveness is a practice

“Self-forgiveness is not something you do once. It is something you keep choosing. Each time it comes back — you choose again. That is the practice. That is enough.”

When you are stuck, ask: “Have I done what fixing it requires?”

Forgiving Is Not the Same as Trusting

Two different things

FORGIVENESS

FORGIVENESS

- Inside
- For your own peace
- Can happen alone
- Needs nothing from the other person
- A gift you give yourself

TRUST

- Between people
- For the safety of the relationship
- Needs both people to be ready
- Earned through real change
- Never owed

You can forgive someone and still keep yourself safe.

Forgiveness Takes Time

The Forgiveness Path

FORGIVENESS

1 Still Hurting

2 Starting to Understand

3 Some Days Are Better

4 Choosing to Put It Down Today

5 The Hurt Is Getting Smaller

6 I Am Okay

The path is not a straight line. Wherever you are — it is okay.

My Story Is Not the Whole Me

Three Panels

IDENTITY

PANEL 1 · PRIVATE

What happened — a real hurt.

PANEL 2

The story I told myself about me.

PANEL 3 · WHO I AM NOW

The person I am today, with what I have learned.

Panel 3 is bigger than Panel 1.

What Does Grace Look Like?

GRACE

A strength you choose

GRACE

- Giving something generous — kindness, patience, a second chance
- To someone who has NOT earned it
- A CHOICE, not a rule
- A STRENGTH, not a weakness

NOT A DOORMAT

- A doormat has NO choice
- Grace HAS a choice — you decide what you give
- You can say NO

Grace is a strength you choose.

Giving the Benefit of the Doubt

GRACE

The Pause Practice

1

Something Happens

You do not know WHY someone did it. Did they mean to? Did they not see?
You do not know — yet.

2

Notice Your First Thought

"They did it on purpose!" Notice the thought — do NOT act on it yet.

3

Pause

Ask: "What is another way to see this — a kind one?" A kind story might be true.

4

Act on the Kind Story

Unless you KNOW for sure — act on the kind story. You can be wrong. You usually won't be.

The practice begins where the kind story runs out.