STEP 3 — STRENGTHS INVENTORY

Circle the THREE strengths that feel most true for you right now:

☐ Honesty

☐ Creativity

☐ Kindness

☐ Courage

☐ Humor

☐ Loyalty

☐ Perseverance

☐ Empathy

☐ Fairness

☐ Leadership

☐ Curiosity

☐ Responsibility

For each circled strength, write ONE sentence explaining why it is yours:

EXIT TICKET

One true thing about me that I want to carry into this school year:

Sorting the Voices: Guilt vs. Shame

Unit 1 • Lesson 5 • Name _____ Date _____

REFERENCE — KEEP THIS VISIBLE WHILE YOU WORK

GUILT

- About what I DID
- Behavior-focused
- "I made a bad choice."
- Points toward: REPAIR

SHAME

- About who I AM
- Identity-focused
- "I am a bad person."
- Points toward: HIDING

PART 1 — SORT THESE STATEMENTS

Read each statement. Write its number in the correct column below.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. "I wish I hadn't said that. I'm going to apologize." | 5. "That was a mean thing to say. I want to make it right." |
| 2. "I always mess everything up." | 6. "There's no point trying — I'm going to fail anyway." |
| 3. "I could have studied harder for that test." | 7. "I let my team down today. I'll do better next time." |
| 4. "I am such a bad friend." | 8. "I am so embarrassing. I can't do anything right." |

GUILT — write numbers here

SHAME — write numbers here

PART 2 — REWRITE INTO GUILT

Choose TWO shame statements. Rewrite each as a guilt statement — behavior-focused, not identity-focused.

Original shame statement #____, rewritten as a guilt statement:

Original shame statement #____, rewritten as a guilt statement:

REFLECTION

In your own words: Guilt is more helpful than shame because...

WS3

Two Voices — One Choice

Unit 1 · Lesson 4 · Name _____ Date _____

ANCHOR TABLE — REFERENCE THIS ALL YEAR
INNER CRITIC says... • "You always mess up." • "You're not as good as everyone else." • "Why even try? You'll fail anyway."	INNER COACH says... • "That didn't go well. What can I learn?" • "I can try again. I am more than this moment." • "This is hard. Hard things are worth doing."

PART 1 — SCENARIO PRACTICE

For each situation, write what the Inner Critic says AND what the Inner Coach says.

Situation A: You fail a test you studied hard for.

Inner CRITIC says:	Inner COACH says:

Situation B: You get cut from the school play.

Inner CRITIC says:	Inner COACH says:

Situation C: You say something that accidentally hurts a friend's feelings.

Inner CRITIC says:	Inner COACH says:

PART 2 — YOUR PERSONAL REFRAME (PRIVATE — NOT COLLECTED)

My Inner Critic recently said:

My Inner Coach says instead:

REFLECTION

Which voice would you say to your best friend? What does that tell you?

The Three-Part Accountability Map

Unit 2 · Lesson 3 · Name _____ Date _____

✓ ACCOUNTABILITY	Own it + Understand impact + Repair = DONE
✗ SELF-PUNISHMENT	Use mistake as evidence + Replay without repair = STUCK

PRACTICE EXAMPLE — ISABELLA'S SCENARIO

Isabella broke her neighbor's garden gnome while playing. She told her parents, apologized, and offered to pay with her allowance. Three weeks later, she is still apologizing — even though the neighbor has clearly moved on.

Step 1 — What exactly happened?

Step 2 — What was the actual impact on the neighbor?

Step 3 — What repair has Isabella done? Is it complete?

Has Isabella completed genuine accountability? What — if anything — is left?

APPLY IT TO YOURSELF (PRIVATE — NOT COLLECTED)

Think of a mistake you have been hard on yourself about.

Step 1 — What exactly happened?

Step 2 — What was the actual impact?

Step 3 — What repair is possible?

REFLECTION

Is my accountability map complete? What can I now release?

WS5

Letter From Your Best Friend

Unit 2 · Lesson 4 · Name _____ Date _____

PRIVACY NOTE: This letter is private and belongs to you. Your teacher will not collect or read it without your invitation.

BEFORE YOU WRITE

If my best friend came to me having made this mistake, I would say to them:

Do I ever say anything like that to myself? Circle one: YES / SOMETIMES / RARELY · NEVER

THE THREE PARTS OF SELF-COMPASSION (DR. KRISTIN NEFF)
Self-Kindness • “I care about you. You are not defined by this.”	Common Humanity • “Everyone goes through hard things like this.”	Mindfulness • “I can acknowledge this without making it bigger than it is.”

WRITE YOUR LETTER — INCLUDE ALL THREE COMPONENTS ABOVE

Dear _____,

With love, _____

AFTER READING YOUR LETTER BACK TO YOURSELF

What was it like to receive this letter?

Self-compassion is NOT letting yourself off the hook because...

WS6

Two Separate Decisions: Forgiveness vs. Trust

Unit 3 · Lesson 3 · Name _____ Date _____

PRIVACY NOTE: Your boundary statement (Part 2) is always private.

REFERENCE
FORGIVENESS • Internal — for your own peace • Can happen alone, in your own heart • Requires nothing from the other person • Frees YOU from carrying resentment	TRUST • Relational — for the safety of the relationship • Requires both people's readiness • Requires demonstrated change over time • Never obligatory — and never owed

PART 1 — SCENARIO ANALYSIS

For each scenario: Can forgiveness happen here? Should trust be extended? What would trust require?

Scenario A: Your classmate borrowed your pencil case without asking and lost it. She apologized and replaced it.

Working toward forgiveness? Why?	Extending trust? What would it take?

Scenario B: A friend broke your confidence and told your secret. She apologized once but continues sharing other people's things.

Working toward forgiveness? Why?	Extending trust? What would it take?

Scenario C: A classmate teased you in third grade. You are now in fifth grade and they are kinder. You still feel guarded.

Working toward forgiveness? Why?	Extending trust? What would it take?

PART 2 — YOUR BOUNDARY STATEMENT (PRIVATE)

"I am choosing not to carry resentment toward _____. I am also not in a place to be close to this person right now, and that is okay. Both of these things can be true at the same time."

REFLECTION

In your own words: Why does it matter that forgiveness and trust are two separate things?

WS7

My Three-Panel Story — Narrative Reclaim

Unit 3 · Lesson 5 · Name _____ Date _____

PRIVACY NOTE: Panel 1 is ALWAYS private. Your teacher will never collect or read Panel 1.

Drawing is a valid response for all three panels. Take your time.

PANEL 1 — WHAT HAPPENED (PRIVATE — BELONGS TO YOU ONLY)

Something that happened to me — a real hurt, loss, or disappointment. Draw or write.

PANEL 2 — THE STORY I TOLD MYSELF

What I decided this meant about me:

PANEL 3 — THE STORY I AM CHOOSING

Not denying Panel 1. Choosing what meaning it gets going forward. Panel 3 does NOT erase Panel 1 — it adds to it.

What I choose to believe this means instead:

REFLECTION

One story I am choosing to tell myself differently is _____ , because _____ .

WS8

My Grace Challenge Tracker — 5-Day Micro-Moment Log

Unit 4 · Lesson 4 · Name _____ Date _____

WHAT IS A MICRO-MOMENT OF GRACE?

- A small, specific, daily act of grace
- Takes less than 30 seconds · costs nothing · chosen deliberately
- Examples: say someone's name · move over to make room · give the benefit of the doubt

MY THREE GRACE CHALLENGE COMMITMENTS — BE SPECIFIC

Not “be nicer.” Exactly what you will do, to whom, and when.

Commitment 1 — Exactly what I will do, to whom, and when:

Commitment 2 — Exactly what I will do, to whom, and when:

Commitment 3 — Exactly what I will do, to whom, and when:

The Pause Practice — Charitable Interpretation

Unit 4 · Lesson 3 · Name _____ Date _____

THE PAUSE PRACTICE — FOUR STEPS

- 1
- Something ambiguous happens — you don't know why.
- 2
- Your brain offers the FIRST interpretation. Notice it. Do not act on it yet.
- 3
- PAUSE. Ask: “What is another explanation — a reasonable, charitable one?”
- 4
- Act based on the charitable interpretation UNLESS you have clear evidence otherwise.

SCENARIO PRACTICE

For each scenario: write the NEGATIVE interpretation first, then the CHARITABLE one.

1. Your friend does not wave back when you wave at them in the hall.

Negative interpretation:	Charitable interpretation:

2. Your teacher gives a lower grade than you expected with no comment.

Negative interpretation:	Charitable interpretation:

3. Your classmate did not show up to the group work session you planned.

Negative interpretation:	Charitable interpretation:

4. Someone you know walks past you without saying hi.

Negative interpretation:	Charitable interpretation:

EXAMINE YOUR OWN PATTERN

Who do I automatically give the benefit of the doubt to? (people I like, feel close to, am similar to)

Who do I NOT give charitable interpretation to? What does that tell me about where my practice begins?

Name one person I will try charitable interpretation with this week — and what it will look like:
