

SCHOOL OF LIFE FOUNDATION

The Architecture of Grace

Student Worksheets — Book 3 · The Interior

The complete set of seventeen reproducible student worksheets for Grades 6–8, spanning all four units — identity, self-compassion, empathy & forgiveness, and grace. Photocopy one per student and distribute at the moment its lesson indicates. Nearly every page is private work — see the notes on each.

Worksheets in This Pack

Identity Audit	Unit 1 • Lesson 1
Digital Backpack Audit	Unit 1 • Lesson 3
Values Under Pressure	Unit 1 • Lesson 4
Integrity Statement	Unit 1 • Lesson 5
Choice-Agency Map	Unit 1 • Lesson 6
Future-Self Letter	Unit 1 • Lesson 7
Internal Critic Profile	Unit 2 • Lesson 1
Comparison Audit	Unit 2 • Lesson 2
Perfectionism vs. Healthy Striving	Unit 2 • Lesson 3
Script Analysis	Unit 2 • Lesson 6
Compassionate Witness Statement	Unit 2 • Lesson 7
Three Sides	Unit 3 • Lesson 2
Narrative Reclaim	Unit 3 • Lesson 5
Letter of Release	Unit 3 • Lesson 6
Boundary Scripts	Unit 3 • Lesson 7
Grace Challenge Tracker	Unit 4 • Lesson 4
Grace Audit	Unit 4 • Lesson 6

Most worksheets in this pack are designated private work — never collected, never shared, belonging entirely to the student. Artifacts are kept by students and collected only with explicit permission; the Future-Self Letter is sealed and returned at year-end. Several lessons carry PPRA opt-out and counselor co-facilitation requirements — see the Teacher Master Document.

Identity Audit

Unit 1 · Lesson 1 · Who am I when I'm performing — and who am I when I'm not?

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

When I am PERFORMING

What do I show? What do I hide? What do I emphasise?

When I am NOT performing

What do I actually think, feel, value, and struggle with?

Noticing the gap

Without judging yourself, what do you observe between these two columns?

Digital Backpack Audit

Unit 1 · Lesson 3 · What patterns am I carrying in my digital life?

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

What do I typically post or share about?

Themes — not specific posts.

What tone do I most often use online?

e.g. humorous, sarcastic, inspiring, reactive, quiet.

What do I most often react to or engage with?

Does the digital picture match who I actually am?

Where does it fit — and where doesn't it?

One thing I want my digital backpack to carry LESS of:

One thing I want it to carry MORE of:

Values Under Pressure

Unit 1 · Lesson 4 · What happens to my values when things get hard?

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

One value that has come under peer pressure:

What was the pressure? What form did it take?

Describe generally — you do not need to name anyone.

What did I do?

What do I wish I had done?

What would I do differently next time?

Be specific — what is the first concrete action you would take?

Integrity Statement

Unit 1 · Lesson 5 · The story I am choosing to tell about who I am — right now.

Name _____ Date _____

ARTIFACT — Students keep this. Teachers may collect only with explicit permission.

I am ____

Not what you want to be. Not what others say you are. Who you are choosing to be right now.

I value ____

Name at least two values — things you hold even when it is hard.

I choose ____

What are you actively choosing about how you show up?

The story I am telling about myself is ____

This is the narrative you are claiming authorship of.

(Optional) One line I am willing to share with a partner:

Your choice. Never required.

Choice-Agency Map

Unit 1 · Lesson 6 · Three circles. One powerful question: where does your response live?

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

OUTER CIRCLE — Things completely outside my control right now

List as many as apply to your life currently.

MIDDLE CIRCLE — Things I can influence but not fully control

These are areas where your actions matter but do not determine the outcome.

INNER CIRCLE — Things I can fully choose

Start with “my response to ____.” Your response ALWAYS belongs here.

One thing I am currently treating as outer-circle that actually belongs in the inner circle:

Future-Self Letter

Unit 1 · Lesson 7 · A letter to yourself — to be opened at the end of the year.

Name _____ Date _____

SEALED ARTIFACT — Stored by teacher and returned later in the year. Never read.

Dear Future Me,

Write as if speaking directly to who you will be at the end of this school year.

What do you want your future self to remember from Unit 1?

What do you want your future self to know about who you are right now?

Not who you hope to be — who you actually are today.

What hope do you have for who you are becoming?

One thing I am choosing, starting now:

Internal Critic Profile

Unit 2 · Lesson 1 · Getting to know the voice — so it stops running the show.

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

My internal critic's name (optional)

"The Judge." "The Voice." Or leave it unnamed.

CATASTROPHISING

"This is going to ruin everything."

GLOBALISING

"I always mess this up."

PERSONALISING

"It's my fault they're upset."

Two specific sentences my internal critic says to me

Write exactly how it sounds in your head — not cleaned up.

What situation tends to trigger the critic most?

What my Compassionate Witness says in response

Imagine the kindest, wisest person you know hearing what the critic just said. What do they say back?

Comparison Audit

Unit 2 · Lesson 2 · Mapping the comparisons I make — and testing whether they are fair.

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

COMPARISON 1

Who or what I compared myself to:

COMPARISON 2

Who or what I compared myself to:

COMPARISON 3

Who or what I compared myself to:

OWN-YARDSTICK REFRAME

"Compared to me [six months / one year] ago, I have ____."

Perfectionism vs. Healthy Striving

Unit 2 · Lesson 3 · Where do I sit — and what is the fear underneath?

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

PERFECTIONISM

Mark an X where you sit

PERFECTIONISM

Mark an X where you sit

PERFECTIONISM

Mark an X where you sit

HEALTHY STRIVING

HEALTHY STRIVING

HEALTHY STRIVING

One area where my perfectionism looks like laziness or avoidance

What does it look like from the outside?

What is actually happening underneath?

"I am actually afraid of ____."

COMMITMENT — One imperfect step I can take this week

Make it small. Make it specific. Make it doable.

Script Analysis

Unit 2 · Lesson 6 · Getting honest about the story you carry — and writing a fairer version.

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

1. A script I carry

Write it exactly as it sounds in your head. Do not soften it.

2. Where did it come from?

Who or what wrote this script originally?

3. Evidence that contradicts it

What has actually happened — in your actions, your life — that this script ignores?

4. What does it cost me to keep carrying it?

Be specific — in relationships, in choices, in how you show up.

5. A more accurate, fair version

Not a positive affirmation. A version that is simply more true and more fair.

Compassionate Witness Statement

Unit 2 · Lesson 7 · The voice that sees you fairly — in your own words. · Unit 2 Synthesis

Name _____ Date _____

ARTIFACT — Students keep this. Teachers may collect only with explicit permission.

My Compassionate Witness sounds like

Describe its voice — calm? Steady? Warm?

It knows

What does your Compassionate Witness understand about you that your internal critic dismisses?

It says

Write what it would say to you right now — at the end of Unit 2.

The Transfer Question

Imagine using this same Compassionate Witness to look at someone who has hurt you. What does it see about what they were carrying?

One intention I am carrying into Unit 3

The Interior · Grades 6–8 Page /

Three Sides

Unit 3 · Lesson 2 · Every conflict has three sides — and the third is the one that changes everything.

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

THE SCENARIO

Teacher-provided. Do not use a personal situation unless you choose to.

SIDE ONE · Person A's perspective

What did Person A experience? What were they feeling? What story are they telling?

SIDE TWO · Person B's perspective

What did Person B experience? What were they feeling? What story are they telling?

SIDE THREE · The Compassionate Observer

What does the observer see that neither person can see from where they are standing?

Reflection: Can more than one side be true at the same time?

Narrative Reclaim

Unit 3 · Lesson 5 · Taking back authorship of your own story.

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

1. A narrative others hold about me that distorts who I actually am

You can use a general label, a rumour, or a repeated misread.

2. What that narrative gets wrong — specifically

What does it leave out? What does it exaggerate? What does it misread?

3. Evidence that contradicts it

What have you actually done — in your actions, choices, relationships — that this narrative ignores?

4. The true version

Not defensive. Not a press release. A version that is simply more accurate.

5. The counter-narrative I demonstrate through my behaviour

"The people who watch me act with integrity over time will know: ____."

Letter of Release

Unit 3 · Lesson 6 · A private letter — a choice to set down the weight.

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

This letter is addressed to

You do not have to use a real name. You can write “you” or a letter or leave it blank.

What happened — as I experienced it

Write it as honestly as you can.

What it cost me to carry this

Be specific — sleep, attention, energy, relationships, sense of self.

What I am choosing to release

Not the event. Not the memory. What are you choosing to set down?

What I am NOT releasing or excusing

This letter does not mean “it was okay.”

Why I am choosing this — for myself, not for the other person

What I am reclaiming by making this choice

Boundary Scripts

Unit 3 · Lesson 7 · Limit-setting language grounded in self-respect — not retaliation.

Name _____ Date _____

PRIVATE WORK — Never collected, never shared. Belongs entirely to the student.

SCENARIO 1 · A peer situation where I need to set a limit

Describe briefly — no names needed

The value this limit protects

My boundary script

When you ____ / I ____ / Going forward, I need ____.

SCENARIO 2 · A digital or social media situation

Describe briefly

The value this limit protects

My boundary script

SCENARIO 3 · A repeated pattern (not a one-off incident)

Describe briefly

The value this limit protects

My boundary script

Reflection: The difference between a limit and a threat is

Grace Challenge Tracker

Unit 4 · Lesson 4 · Three specific daily micro-moments of grace. One week. What do you notice?

Name _____ Date _____

ARTIFACT — Students keep this. Teachers may collect only with explicit permission.

MY THREE COMMITMENTS

Specific · observable · doable in 30 seconds.

1 Commitment 1

Write it so specifically that you will know for certain whether you did it or not.

2 Commitment 2

3 Commitment 3

DAILY TRACKING

Check off your commitments at the end of each day. Note one thing you observed.

WEEKLY REFLECTION

What surprised you? What was harder than expected? What ripple did you observe?

Grace Audit

Unit 4 · Lesson 6 · A field observation and a micro-moment commitment: finding a Grace Gap and addressing it.

Name _____ Date _____

ARTIFACT — Students keep this. Teachers may collect only with explicit permission.

STEP ONE The Grace Gap I identified

Specific · Observable · Actionable · Empathic

Where is it?

Context, relationship, or pattern.

Who experiences it?

No names needed.

What does the absence of grace look like in this context?

Why does it matter — what is the cost for the person experiencing it?

STEP TWO My micro-moment

Specific · ≤ 30 seconds · costs something

What will it cost me?

Social courage, attention, vulnerability.

When will I execute it?

Specific day and context.

STEP THREE Reflection — complete after execution

What happened? What did you notice?

The Interior · Grades 6–8 Page /