

Pitch Discipline Card

Glance at this for ten seconds before you start. Calm and brief — let the passion show through the cracks.

FIRST, REGULATE YOURSELF

Slow breath. Drop your shoulders. Talk at half the speed you want to.

Excited speeds up; conviction slows down. One idea, then hand the floor back.

OPEN WITH A QUESTION — NOT A PITCH

“What’s your biggest headache with student (or staff) wellbeing right now?”

Then listen. You’re responding to their need, not unloading everything you love.

SAY ONE HOOK — FOR THIS PERSON ONLY

AUDIENCE	SAY ONLY THIS ONE HOOK
Teachers	“One next step, tied to standards — nothing to grade.”
Parents	“See how your child’s really feeling — and one thing to try tonight.”
Administrators	“No logins, no stored student data — live on one page.”
Counselors	“Maps the lowest domain, with flags students never see.”
Coaches	“A 60-second tank check — who’s running on empty.”
Adults / Staff	“You can’t pour from empty. A 60-second self-check.”
Therapists	“Structured reflection between sessions — on-device.”
Faith leaders	“Meets people where they are — every age, fully private.”
District leaders	“Bilingual, accessible, zero stored data, one page.”

THE 3-LINE SCRIPT

1. Hook — “Architecture of Grace is a framework for building a lifelong relationship with yourself and others — through identity, self-compassion, forgiveness, and grace.”

2. Proof — pick the ONE line above that fits who’s in front of you.

3. Ask — “Want me to send the one-pager?” or “Would a 10-minute demo help?”

THEN STOP TALKING

After the ask, say nothing. The pause is where they decide they’re interested.

Filling the silence with three more reasons is the excitement leaking out. Let it sit.
